PROLOGUE

The college campus is to us a stage
With four acts played by those who come and go.

At first the Freshman
In his jaunty rat cap dyed a vivid green,
A merry rogue, the butt of all the school.
And then the pompous Sophomore struts across
Exulting in his line to well bluffed pros.

The third act shifts
Into the studious days of Junior year
With books piled high and papers by the score;
His eager mind in sallies of its own
Makes bold to discourse learnedly in class.
Last scene of all
That ends this four years' college comedy
Is Seniorhood with robes of dignity,
Which give him right to weave a story of it all
And write it here within this INTERACTHEN.

Setting

"This is a most majestic vision, and Harmonious charmingly."

"And this our life exempt from public haunt."

"Tis beauty, truly blent."

*"I know a bank where the wild thyme blows,
Where oxlips and the nodding violet grows."*

*"Hath not old custom made this life more sweet
Than that of painted pomp?"*

History of Senior Class

IN the fall of 1923 a group of new and inexperienced actors made their appearance on the Southern stage with the realization that in order to be principal characters on the greater Stage of Life they must first make a creditable showing in a play of four acts called "College."

ACT I

Characters: Freshmen

This first act of the new play was not easy. There were more experienced actors on the stage and we felt that they looked down on us. Many and varied were our experiences as Freshmen. From the upper-classmen we obtained knowledge and wisdom that will never be erased from our minds. Soon we oriented ourselves to our new life and began to take part in all the college activities.

Many events will long be remembered by the members of this class. When the opening reception was held, throngs of visitors came to view the buildings on the campus. Then, there were the annual Hallowe'en party, the Thanksgiving and George Washington dinners. Toward the latter part of the year the Old English May Festival was held on the lawn at the rear of the girls' dormitory. At the close of our first year each Freshman was vitally and actively interested in Southern.

ACT II

Characters: Sophomores

With the second appearance on the stage the actors gained more confidence. How proud we were to let the world know that we were Sophomores and with what disdain we looked upon the new Freshmen!

The outstanding event of the year was the picnic that we gave for the Seniors at Kissenger Springs.

ACT III

Characters: Juniors

By the beginning of the third act we had become more serious minded and felt that it was not as easy to be a good actor as we had believed. However, we were filled with pride, for we were now upper-classmen with all the privileges which that term implies.

There are many occasions that will always be remembered in connection with our Junior year. Can we ever forget that memorable day when our new President, Dr. Spivey, was inaugurated with solemn and impressive ceremonies? Hundreds of people, including some of the most prominent men from all parts of the country, witnessed that scene. During the same year the great "Million Dollar Campaign" was put on, and we loyally and enthusiastically supported Southern in this project. We yelled for Southern all the way from St. Pete to Orlando.

The Freshmen were especially respectful toward us for they entertained us at a picnic at Eagle Lake. At last came the crowning event of the year for us, the Junior-Senior banquet at the Hotel Thelma. Truly on that night college life seemed glorious.

ACT IV

Characters: Seniors

Then came the last act of the play and more than ever we realized that this must be the best. This past year, as we have walked through the corridors or around the campus, we have seen changes here and there that we have helped to bring about. On the southwestern corner of the campus stands the boys' dormitory, which was completed in the fall. We must not fail to mention the Southern College Athletic Field that was dedicated during the winter. Toward the east of the girls' dormitory ground has been broken and work has been begun on the gymnasium.

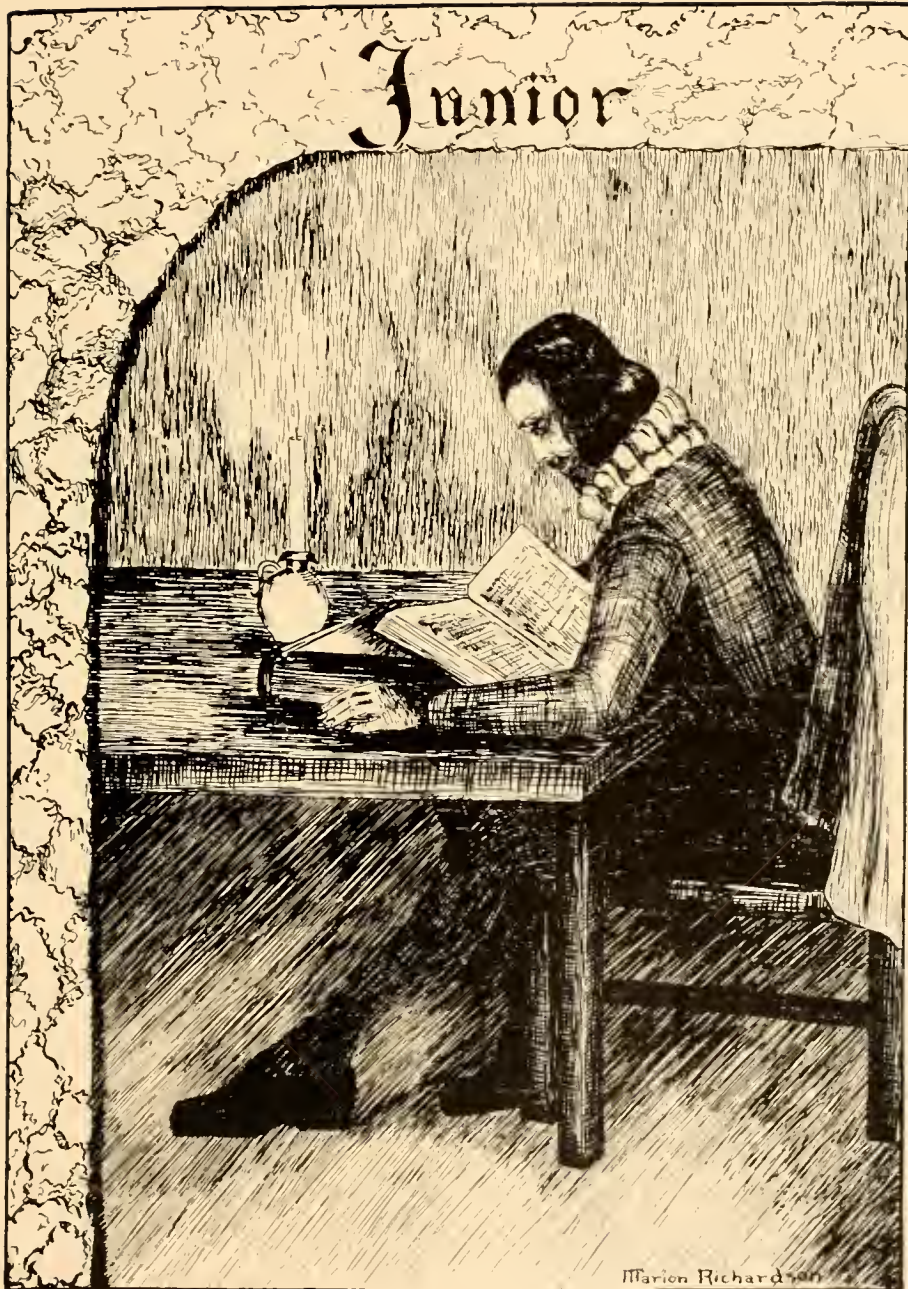

Busy, busy days! And so we Seniors bustle and hurry about for we have many important matters to attend to, all leading up to the great climax—Commencement. How that very word thrills our souls! Yet, it is with a tinge of sadness that we think of the approaching event and of those whom we must leave behind.

EPILOGUE

Thus we Seniors of 1927 have finished our years of apprenticeship, our four-act play, and are ready to step out upon the Stage of Life. As yet we are novices and may not all have leading parts, but we hope that each will do his best, no matter how humble the part he plays.

Phi Sigma Minstrel

Among the annual affairs of Southern College is a minstrel given by the Phi Sigma Literary Society in the Spring. Last year the proceeds went to the Million-Dollar Campaign. This year they are for the Athletic Fund. This event is one that is always looked forward to by the whole student body.

Under the capable direction of Miss Glada B. Walker the Department of Art is steadily growing. The students of this department did all the art work for the annual under the supervision of the instructor. The Art Club, in its study of the effect of art and color on one's every-day life, gives the students a deeper appreciation of beauty. Not only color but any phase of art that arouses the interest of the members is studied. The club has for its members those who are interested in art, whether or not they are art students. It is the aim of the Art Club, sponsored by the School of Art, to bring art into use in life.

Fraternities

THE Pan-Hellenic Council and the Inter-Fraternity Council deal systematically with all questions and things of interest which pertain to the further advancement and betterment of fraternities at Southern and they have done much to promote a feeling of understanding among the fraternities.

The fraternity members stand for good scholarship, for whole-hearted co-operation with our college's ideals for student life, and for the maintenance of fine social standards.

*In days gone by Old English Courts
Were scenes of splendor and delight
Where stately knights and damsels fair
Kept tryst in brilliant pageantry.
To-day at Southern, scenes are changed;
Our court is Spanish in design,
But knights and ladies are the same
As when they rode in other clime,
And if our land varies in the kind of tree that's shady
We ask you to believe with us, "this is Illyria, lady."*

The 1926 Season

SOUTHERN'S Moccasins for 1926 will go down in Florida college history as the greatest array of fighting football players ever to battle on a Southern gridiron. While they did not startle the world with flaming pictures of their gridiron triumphs, they did excite comment on every field upon which they appeared because of their fight and gameness. The "Mocs" won four games and dropped an equal number.

Rollins fell before the Southern attack November 20 to the rather humiliating count of 35-0. Just a little over a week before that the South Georgia Aggies were buried under a scoring avalanche which registered 54-0. On October 23 the Erskine Collegians from South Carolina invaded the Moccasins on their new field and were repelled by a 29-0 defeat. In the only other game which the Southerners won, they trimmed the Piedmont College team 39-0 in the opening battle of the season at home.

The team which won such lavish praise for its grit in all sections where it played lost its first game of the season to the University of Florida Gators, but only after having battled them to a standstill in the first half. This game, played on the University field, September 25, wound up: Florida 16, Southern 0. The next reverse came October 16, when the Moccasins, accompanied by President Spivey, went to Birmingham. The Birmingham-Southern Panthers finally nosed the Moccasins out 26 to 13, but not until they were forced to realize that Southern's team was one of their most worthy foes of the entire season.

Coach McQuillan's Stetson Hatters accepted the breaks of the game at its start in the battle of De Land, November 6, and triumphed over the Mocs 17-0, while the University of Louisville, in possession of Freddy Koster, high point man of Southern football, came to Lakeland Thanksgiving Day and humbled the Moccasin team 13 to 3. However, it must be admitted by all that the Southerners threw a scare into the highly touted Cardinals by leading 3-0 at the end of the first half. This game not only ended the season but also ended the football careers of Captain "Red" Watkins, Silas Greene, Roy Lott, Dewey Spooner and Joe Tolle.

COACH JAMES RAYMOND HAYGOOD

A.B. Vanderbilt University

Coach enjoys the distinction of having played on the first Commodore Team that Dan McGugin coached. The coming season will be his third in charge of the Moccasins. He checked out of Henderson-Brown after he had served there over fifteen years, to accept the job as head coach for Southern. Coach knows his football all the way through and best of all he knows men, how to handle them and how to get out of them all they have in them. With Coach "Jimmy" at the head of Athletics at Southern, a new day is dawning for the Blue and White.

JOHN PAYTON ANDERSON

*Coach of the Frosh Outfit and Varsity
Coach for the Basketeers*

Coach John won his A.B. at Hendrix College. Look it up for yourself! Just the type to have charge of the Rat aggregation. He worked wonders for the Baby Mocs last season and besides winning most of the games on his schedule he trained a bevy of near-stars who may shine for Coach "Jimmy" on the Varsity next fall.

SHORTY PARDEE

WALTER SPOONER

Interlarchen

BRAXTON WATKINS

A strawberry blond; hence "Red" is the monicker attached. One of the greatest centers ever to serve a football team in the State of Florida. Those who have played against "Red" always sing his praises and know he is a man to be feared. Captain of the Mocs for the past two seasons and re-elected for a third term. Even Coolidge might not be able to equal that for popularity, wot?

KATHRYNE BARIHAM
and
CHRISTIE SUMMERS

These two students didn't see service on the actual field of battle but they helped the other fellows accomplish many a hard task by leading the cheering on the side-lines. They stepped up the lung voltage of the student body higher than it had been in the history of the institution. Those who go into the thick of the fray know how much that cheering helps.

Interlachen

HOLLIS GALLOWAY

They call him "Gal," but there's nothing effeminate about Southern's best broken-field runner and yardage gatherer. He's a veritable cyclone when carrying the ball and occupied most of his time at half-back last season. "Gal," however, has sense as well as power and speed, and fits in nicely at quarter.

ROY LOTT

The world's smallest football player. He tips the beam at 112 pounds when devoid of clothing. While his name is just Lott he covers more ground sometimes than an entire subdivision. Accurate passer in studies as well as in football.

Elusive and swift with the oval. Senior. Winds up his career through graduation this year.

CALE KELLER

They're still talking about Cale in Birmingham. He strutted his best stuff in the game against Birmingham-Southern last season. Cale is always good. This sterling half shines best on off-tackle plays and end runs. He covers more ground than a tax assessment. Last season was Cale's first on the Varsity squad.

ELLIS PARK GREENE

"Silas" does a "fade-out" in June. Yes, Southern will graduate him. Ten-second man. When it comes to line-plunging he couldn't even be stopped by an injunction. Of course a fullback by the name of Greene would naturally be a colorful player, what? He did enough wonderful work against Louisville to be remembered a century.

Interlachen

TAYLOR REESE

Member of a famous football family. Cousin of Gil's. Shelby's brother. Just as good an end as he is a halfback and that's saying a column full. Two more years in which to gambol on Southern's gridiron. An injured ankle kept him on the side-lines a deal of the time last season but when that ankle was right, so was Taylor.

ALLEN CROWLEY

Sometimes called "George." And oft-times the cry goes up, "Let 'George' do it!" And, "George" does it. Plays in the backfield, but plays rough sometimes. Old man Jinx hit him last season and kept him from the fray in most games because of an injury. He'll be back next year and like a ton of brick, as usual.

JIMMY WHIDDON

Toot! Toot!! Here comes the Ankle Express! Jimmy doesn't know what it is to slow up for crossings! Goal line crossings are no exceptions. Selah! The fastest man on the squad. Last season was his first on the Varsity. Two more years of Jimmy! As speedy a backfield man as one will find in Florida to-day.

GARNER McPHERSON

Goes like a spiral staircase while corkscrewing through the opposition. Did great work for Southern his first year out. Came to the Moccasins from Palmer College and entered as a Junior. Also plays end. Whether it's running, blocking, tackling or catching passes "Mack" is perfectly at home. He has one more year on the squad.

Interlachen

JOE TOLLE

Who hasn't heard of this brilliant right end? He has scintillated for Southern throughout his college career. Joe had the happy knack of going after chunked forward passes rather in the manner that Tris Speaker goes after fly balls. Joe was a star in any department of the game. Too bad a fellow has to graduate just at a time when it seems there will be no successor to fill his job acceptably.

DEWEY SPOONER

It will be an revoir to Dewey after this spring, as he graduates. As good a fighter as his honorable name-sake, one George, who strutted his stuff fairly well in the Spanish-American war. He almost all-ways got his man around end and was a wiz at blocking and being on the receiving end of passes. Southern will miss the "Admiral."

SAM BANKS

Managed the Moccasins last season, but did not allow his managerial duties to interfere with his football playing. Sam looks best when on the receiving end of a forward pass. He was doing just that thing with a touch down in sight against the Georgia Aggies when tackled rather forcefully by two. The result was an injured arm which kept him out for the remainder of the season. Sam's a Senior.

KENDALL TOLLE

Just another Tolle. Kendall played his first college football with the Moccasins last season. He was placed at end and while a little light for such a heavy job, he gave a good account of himself in the battles he participated in. Kendall has two more years in which to put on weight. Unlike Topsy, he hasn't "just growed," yet.

Interlachen

HERBERT WASSON

Not very proud of that name "Herbert." Says he is trying to live it down. Prefers "Mule." This rangy lad works in the line at tackle. His pet slogan while doing football duty there is, "Budge not, that ye be not bugged." "Mule" will be a Moccasin for two more years to come and there is much joy because of it.

JACK STANLEY

"I'll Go Where You Want, Me To Go, Dear Coach." That's the refrain Jack sings. He had rather play in the back-field, of course. Who hadn't? Yet, when Coach was short on line material he placed Jack at any old position he happened to need a man for last season and Jack pulled an anti-Piggly-Wiggly—he delivered the goods.

TOM WILLIAMS

A fellow who has been sticking around this old globe for many years before he realized that he might be able to play football. Getting such a late start in the grid game he was naturally not sure of himself last year and won a place only as a substitute. Everybody is predicting that he will win a regular place the coming season.

WALTER SPOONER

This Plant City bear cat was used at tackle and guard a good bit the past season. While he was not a startling first-stringer, there were few games in which he did not display his prowess. One of the hardest, toughest fighters ever appearing on any gridiron at any time and any place.

Interlachen

OMAR MITCHELL

Blocking and opening up holes are Omar's specialties. He did guard duty for the Moccasins throughout last season. The backfield men know that they can trust the Tent Maker's speed on running interference on those long end runs. Mitchell came up to Southern from Plant City High where he formerly starred.

DEE MOSELEY

Dee had the good fortune to be elected alternate captain of the footballers after the season closed. That shows he is popular with his fellow players. He is just as popular as a private in the ranks.

too; and the backs like to run plays over the side of the line he is playing on, for they know he will be there for them.

EDDIE SPRING

Our young Mr. Spring formerly galivanted considerably in the backfield. Last season, however, Coach was long on backs and short on linesmen, so Eddie fitted into the line nicely. Very good, Eddie! Sturdy and speedy and an excellent man when the backs desire some one to run interference.

VERNON EVERETT

"Stubble" seldom knows where he's going but he's always on his way. A good enough fighter to make a buzz saw yell "calf rope!" "Stubble" got a late start in football and as a consequence he is still learning some of the finer points. Yet, he is a man to be feared when the excitement of the game takes hold of him.

Interlachen

"RED" WATKINS

Using the same head at center as captain, "Red" passed the ball to the backs with the accuracy of an "Annie Okley." "Red" was found over the ball in every game. His motto: "The larger they are the harder they fall." "Red" has been as permanent a fixture over the ball at Southern as Will Stewart on the truck.

GUY HAMILTON

Hard luck camped on Guy's trail last season and finally put him down for the count. Guy, when all there, plays center. Injuries which came early in the season knocked him from the fray. It was an injured side in Hamilton's case. He's big and beefy and looks as if he were built for football.

JOE TOLLE

Grabbing chunks from the air is what Joe is fond of. This picture was taken just as he had pulled in one from out of the atmosphere and was headed for home, but unfortunately a Cardinal player happened to be going in the same direction and decided to ride the rest of the way.

SAM ADAMS

Our Mr. Adams worked at tackle in a number of games for the Moccasins. In spite of the fact that beef is rather sparse in so far as Samuel is concerned, he gave away weight and stuck by his guns in every encounter he took part in. Sam has two more years of service on the Blue and White machine.

RUSSELL DUGAN

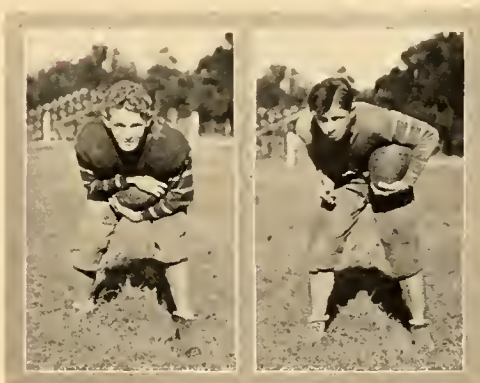

"Russ" is the big curly-headed Freshman who hails from Ionia, Michigan, where he played half two years and end for three years. He held down fullback position on the Frosh this year. "Russ" is a hard driver and a far-away punter.

RONALD ROUSH

"Baby Face" comes from Weston, West Virginia, where he played three years on the high school team there. Played quarterback on the team this year. Roush is a good field general and passes well.

JIMMIE BALKCOM

Jimmie hails from Boston, Georgia, where he played three years on the team. He came to Lakeland and played on the Dreadnaughts for one year. Jimmie is light, but a cool player, and especially good in carrying the ball.

OSCAR TYSON

"Joe Oscar" played halfback at St. Cloud for one year. Tyson is the speed wagon of the Frosh aggregation. While in high school he won a number of medals in the State Track Meet for his speediness.

Interlachen

HARVEY HARDIN

"Red" Hardin came from Bradenton where he played for two years and one year at De Land. "Red" was rather light in high school but stepped out last year. We look for him to set things on fire next year.

JOHN CARLTON

"Abbie" came from the wilds of Stamps, Ark., where he helped the Stamps to lick for four years. "Abbie" will make a good end for he is well built for this position. We are glad to have him with us next year.

OZIEL HARRISON

"Zeke" hails from Greensboro, Florida, where he played one year. "Zeke" is practically sure of a place on the Varsity next year by virtue of his size and playing ability. He was one of the stars of the Rats this year.

E. D. ROU

"E. D." played for Ocala for three years. He is a big tackle and plays a head up game. He will give someone a big fight for tackle next year.

Interlachen

CHARLES SCURR

Scurr came from Creston, Iowa, where he played for three years as guard. He was surely a hard man to run anything over this year and will show up well next year under Coach Jimmie.

WALTER FRENCH

French came from Benton, Ark., where he played for some time. He is a big man on the Frosh team and played the game in a big way. We are sorry not to have him with us next year.

JOE SPOONER

Joe hails from Plant City where he played center four years. Spooner is a hard fighter and knows how to play his position well. Joe played almost every game this last season.

MARCUS MARCHANT

Marchant is a center of no mean ability from Girard, Ala., where he played two years. He showed up well the past season with the Frosh and was always in there fighting with a smile all over his face.

Interlarchen

1927 Varsity Basket-Ball

JOHN ANDERSON

Coch

Attributes the success of the team to the fine spirit shown throughout the season by the boys. John, with hard work and good coaching, whipped a ragged team into one of champion calibre.

JOE TOLLE

Captain—Guard

This is Joe's second year as captain and never has a more consistent player donned the blue and white. He is a hard fighter and a fast floor man.

1927 SEASON

The Moccasins started the season with several difficult games with independent teams. Some of these games were lost, but when the team began to function with that machine-like precision which comes of good coaching and regular practice these same teams were defeated with the exception of one.

Meeting the Stetson Hatters on our home court the Moccasins won from them by the close score of 25-23. The following week the Southern quintet trekked to De Land where they downed the Hatters to the tune of 28-21. Since Stetson won from Rollins, this victory brought the Moccasins the S. I. A. A. championship of Florida.

Interlachen

ALLEN CROWLEY

Guard

Not flashy, not a star, but always steady and dependable, putting all he has into the game.

KENDALL TOLLE

Guard

Kendall held down the position of standing guard like a veteran, never giving up and always ready to seize an opportunity to put the ball in the enemy's territory.

DEE MOSELEY

Center

Lacking the advantage of height, Dee made up for it with his steady playing and never-quitting spirit.

Interlachen

HOLLIS GALLOWAY

Forward

Shifty and sure in pass work and he tosses goals with the deadly accuracy of a genius who knows his game well.

TAYLOR REESE

Forward

This fighting whirlwind from Mississippi covers the floor like sunshine covers Florida, and is a consistent scorer.

Interlachen

1927 Freshman Basket-Ball

The Baby Moccasins had a very successful season, winning a majority of the games and at times displaying flashy teamwork which won the favor of their opponents.

One of the predominating features of the Freshman defense, as well as offense, was Milton Spivey, a tall, rangy youth from Oklahoma, who could break through and score on the best of teams.

With Koogle and Stith as guards, Roush and Huskey as forwards, and Spivey as center, these Freshmen could give a good account of themselves against any Freshman team in the South. Much credit is due to Marchant and Williams, substitutes, who were always constant and steady in their performance.

DECEMBER 4—Each fair co-ed vies for honors in Who's Who contest.

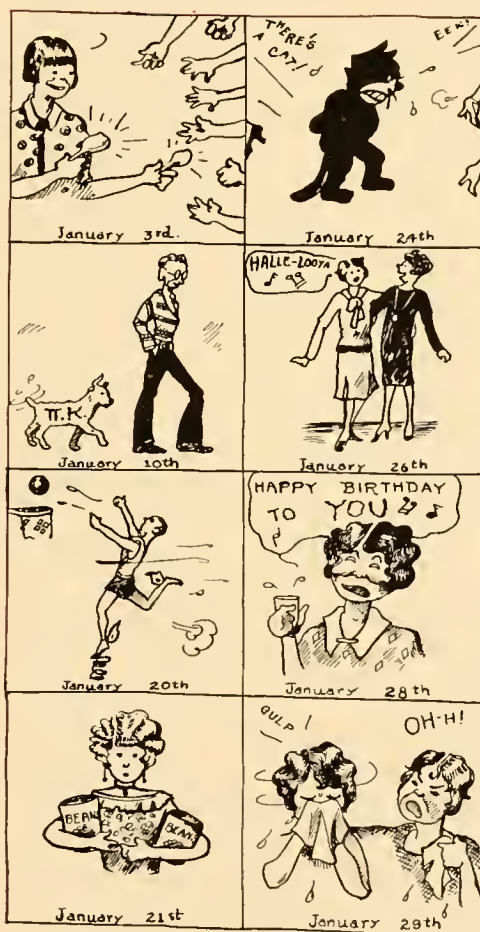

DECEMBER 5—The end of a glorious football season for our "Rats." Roush and Rou—the stars!!

DECEMBER 8—Gentlemen prefer blondes: well,—we surrender. Anyway, we wonder what girl had enough courage to write those letters in the Southern.

DECEMBER 17—Christmas vacation approaches. Savannah gets the first box.

Interlachen

JANUARY 3—Back again! Aren't we glad Virginia Puckett is generous? She even passed around the drumsticks of her chicken to the hungry mob in the Wilderness.

JANUARY 10—"I want to go where you go," sings Pi Kappa as he trails after Nolan MacFarland.

JANUARY 20—Milton Spivey? "Yes, he's my boy," says Roy Lott, but here's how he looks to us—wings, springs and all.

JANUARY 22—Mary Ruby Johns returning with the supplies for the Saturday night banquet of beans and onions.

JANUARY 24—"Tis cruel,—to be a cat. After a few shrieks and faints no cat feels much at home at Southern.

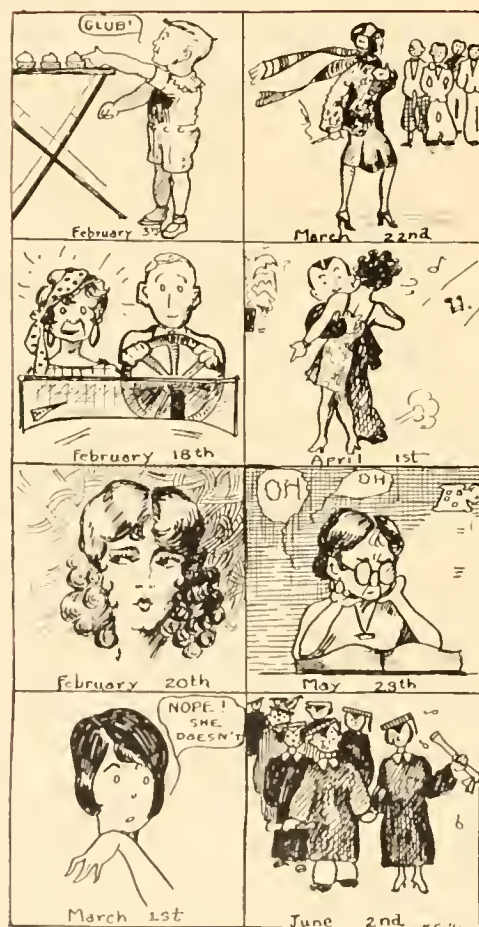

JANUARY 26—They have "it"—that good old relieved spirit. Kat and Liza celebrate after exams.

JANUARY 28—Somebody's birthday, so all the girls in the dining room pay their respects through song.

JANUARY 29—The sadness of it—a rumor is abroad that Ed leaves school at the end of the first semester and some are simply unable to "hold-up" under the shock of the news.

FEBRUARY 3—Allan Spivey enjoys the flavor of each dish of ice cream on the table. Unselfishly he thinks of his father and carries him some.

FEBRUARY 18—O! the wrangle, tangle gypsies—some advertising for "The Gypsy Trail."

FEBRUARY 20—Such a dream was Virginia in her blonde curls, in fact she was mistaken for a new girl and given the grand rush accordingly.

MARCH 1—Nope! she doesn't have "it." That is final and such a pity too, but Billie Ellis knows.

MARCH 22—Never a more beautiful sight was enjoyed by the girls than when Roy Lott appeared at the George Washington dinner charmingly gowned in his latest Paris creation.

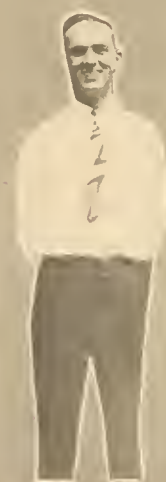

APRIL 1—O, yes! a perfectly wonderful dance was given in the dining room. Notice the date, please.

MAY 20—Exams must be met by even the best of us.

JUNE 2—"Tis come, the day of parting. Dear Seniors, we bid farewell. We wish for you the best of success.
